principal
mr. percy allen

mr. allen's message to the graduating class-the class of '69 has spent three very profitable years at kearny high school. your record speaks for itself. each one of you can look back to the outstanding achievements to the aesthetics, scholastics, and athletics. you are ready to make your place in this complicated world of ours. good luck, and may you have the very best of everything.

increased enrollment, schedule changes; administration yields competent guidance kearny high school proudly boasts three very capable vice principals, mrs. karen wiseman, mr. lincoln rock, and mr. louis lepore. mrs. wiseman, who has been with kearny for twenty-six years, is known for her dependency, efficiency and depth of understanding. she received her general bachelors degree from the university of missouri school of journalism. she received her general secondary and secondary administrative credential and masters from claremont graduate school. mr. lepore is a very capable administrator who was added to kearny's faculty last year. he received his b.a. and a general secondary credential from claremont graduate school. mr. rock, also a new addition to kearny's faculty is enthusiastic and sincerely interested in the students. he received his bachelor of arts and masters degree from san diego state college. mr. wilson has been added to the staff this year in the capacity of administrative assistant. his job is to assist the vice principal in all proceedural matters. he received his bachelor of arts in business administration.

the counselors at kearny play an important part in the lives of the students. they assist the student in the planning of his class schedule and help him with his post-high school plans. counselors interpret the school program to the parents and community. counselors help the student establish healthy inter-personal relationships between each other and with the staff, and help him to find his place in the community.

information on careers, jobs, college and scholarships are provided by the counseling office. representatives from many colleges in the united states have come to speak to kearny students through the arrangement of the counseling office. many students have obtained jobs and advice on career choices from mr. cheever, the work counselor. our counseling office is probably the best known building on the kearny campus!

the proper use of "who" and "whom," the correct spelling of words like "consequential," and the composition of impressive essays may seem to be extremely difficult tasks to any student before he has been subjected to the teachers and courses offered at kearny high school by the english department. beginning in the tenth grade, kearny has the advantage of experienced teachers as well as the benefit of effective courses, that manage to keep one step ahead of the student in order to keep him constantly striving for betterment. composition comprises a major portion of each class. learning to write correctly, as well as effectively, is important for today's adolescent, for a well written composition is the mark of a well-educated person. students are encouraged to develop and improve skills in speech in order to master the art of effective communication. literature courses are offered in abundance, also. dating back to shakespeare's time and before, literature classes explore the broad field of classics, concluding with contemporary writers and contemporary works.

since the beginning of mankind, language, more than anything else has created not only a communication gap, but also a natural barrier through which understanding can seldom penetrate. in order to understand the culture of another country it is almost invariably necessary to have a knowledge of that country's language. and the comprehension of each nation's culture is the first major step towards international unity and understanding. at kearny high school, the language department offers courses in four languages: latin, spanish, german, and french. each course teaches as much as the students desire to learn, with classes reaching as far as the fifth year level. the teachers in the language department maintain a curriculum directed to promoting world understanding and awarness.

industrial technology is a dominating part of today's society. if youth is to be expected to shape tomorrow, he must keep in step today; for this reason kearny offers excellence in its industrial arts department. students are taught the proper use of tools construction materials and therefore, learn actual industrial skills and processes. the industrial arts department strives to develop in each student insight and comprehension of technical skills while expressing the importance of industry in today's world.

the home economics department offers excellent instruction in sewing and cooking. with the help of a teacher, each student ultimately creates a large dinner. home planning is offered for those young women who wish to learn everything from baby care to household budgeting. the art department at kearny high school includes crafts classes as well as drawing and painting courses. the crafts classes inspire creativity primarily because each student uses his own imagination for projects. weaving, raku bowl molding, and wire sculptoring are some of the varied projects found in this class.

learn to live and live to learn—taylor the business education department of kearny high is vastly thorough in every aspect. typing and shorthand are offered, two of the most necessary courses for future secretaries. speed and accuracy is improved daily in each typing class. the knowledge of shorthand helps out in the regular school day's notetaking and provides for expediency nesessary in a secretarial career.

office practice is an excellent course, teaching the operating skills of computing, transcribing and duplication machines becoming so prevalent in modern offices. merchandising can be realistically taught this year with the new kearny book store as the classroom providing each student with actual experience. consumer economics teaches the bookwork that is so important in modern business.

music is well said to be the speech of angels. —carlyle

"music is well said to be the speech of the angels" so said carlyle, and the music department of kearny high proves the validity of such a statement. the music department at this school has been acclaimed as being one of the best in the city school system. two choral directors and an instrumental director guide the twelve music classes of the school. courses begin with music appreciation where the student learns the history of music as well as the fundamental groundwork of all music, past and present. from here, courses extend into the instruments and orchestration techniques or follow the singing lines with various choir and chorus classes. the music department is one we can be proud of.

the drama department of kearny is unmatched throughout the city. under the direction of mr. winans, kearny has produced the most difficult plays not only successfully, but excellently.

the custodial staff of kearny high manages to keep the school tidy and clean, despite the efforts of some 2,600 litter bugs who succeed in making the job of a custodian a difficult and never-ending one. sorrow struck kearny earlier this year as mr. homer crain passed away, besides this, head custodian, mr. luke meyers is retiring after twenty-one years of service, nearly fifteen of which have been with kearny. the cafeteria workers at kearny have a difficult task. they are required to prepare a meal for nearly 2,000 students daily, offering the variety and preparation necessary to keep this many students happy. our cafeteria workers deserve a hearty "congratulations". this year, also, kearny sadly bids "good-bye" and "good luck" to mrs. ruth thompson as she is retiring after 25 years of service to our school.

1968-1969 . . . maybe it was the year you lost your idealism. or the year you finally "broke out of your shell." maybe it was the year you campaigned for a candidate in the national elections and became seriously interested in politics. maybe you became active in student government, organized a dance, or got a part in the school play. maybe it was the year you broke a record on the track team, or won a scholarship and began to anticipate college excitedly, yet somehow reluctantly.

regardless of what is meant to each of us personally, we shared that year . . . and it was our last together.

secret seven members teri blaze and michelle erquiaga, and speech and debate members guy qvistgaard and jackie smith are typical of the active class of 1970.

the junior class council, under the direction of their president, kevin hogan, has worked diligently to make the class of 1970 one of the best in kearny's history. the other council officers were teri koons, vice-president, jackie smith, secretary, and paula taylor, treasurer.

money raising projects sponsored by the council included candy sales, beginning in december with candy canes to enhance the christmas atmosphere at kearny. the council also sold candy in the concession stands at the home basketball games, and operated the cloak room and handled the refreshments at the a.s.b. ball. the council also planned the junior class prom.

president kevin hogan not only worked with the junior class this year, but as a member of the a.s.b. council, was interested in community and all school affairs. in answer to his inquiries about the possibility of obtaining a stop light at the corner of linda vista road and artillery drive, the city promised to have one installed within three months.

sophomore class is largest in kearny's history

we're from kearny high school, we couldn't be prouder, and if ya can't hear us, we'll yell a little louder! the sophomore class of 1968-69 was quick to get into the swing of things at kearny! beginning by electing class officers in the third week of school, the sophomores quickly organized a class council and participated in the homecoming festivities. in preparation for their senior year, the class council also organized many money-raising techniques to pay for their prom and graduation. class president, shirley gilman, who is also a member of the a.s.b. council, has effectively represented the sophomores as well as actively praticipating in reforms which have benefited the entire student body.

council worked diligently in october so they could be represented in the homecoming "population explosion", and their float featured a baby's play pen.

activities

if time were not a moving thing and i could make it stay

another day
. . . another year

once again, kearny students write another page of history as they fold away the memories of a summer past. the summer of '68 was one of anticipation for the sophomores as they dreamed of a new and different life ahead of them as they entered kearny. for the juniors, returning to the alma mater meant facing new challenges and obstacles as they realized their responsibility as the new leaders of the school. but for the seniors, it was an era of bewilderment. the '68-'69 school year started off on a note of confusion as nearly 1,000 new sophomores entered kearny's domain. for the first time, three lunch periods of an hour each were introduced. under the direction of coach slater, the lunches were accented by pep rallies and assemblies. the first week of school ended with the first football game. komet leaders began organizing activities to build the spirit of the already enthusiastic student body.

the american scene: yesterday and today— kearny senior high october was a busy month for the inhabitants of k.h.s. the month began with student body elections for the class officers and girls' league positions. banners were raised and speeches prepared as candidates readied themselves for their campaigns. sophomore shirley gilman, junior kevin hogan, and senior sandra harrell were elected class presidents.

girls' league announced its council and awarded kathy callaghan and robert rowley gardinia girl and apple of our eye for september and karen preston and paul mathews for october.

october 25, marked the 18th annual homecoming, following the theme "the american scene: yesterday and today." first place was awarded to a cappella choir as they saluted the 200th anniversary of san diego. lovely marcia richards, reigned over the homecoming game, as the komets defeated the university dons in one of the most decisive games of the season.

amigos and spirit week headline month of november k.h.s. added two more pages to its history book as the first spirit week and operation amigo entered its domain. spirit week, planned by head cheerleader sheryl hortman, and successffully carried through by kearnyites, started off with a bang as students and teachers participated in the people auction. the spotlight was cast on songleader madelyn armstrong, who was auctioned off for $10.25. a pie eating contest, maroon and white day, and dress-up day carried the week through thursday. friday marked the day of the c.i.f. playoffs, and mr. irresistible, jesse tengco, was announced. on thursday of spirit week, students dressed-up and members of the a.s.b. council met the amigos from peru. a welcome in front of the school got the three week stay off to a bang as song and cheerleaders welcomed the amigos with a cheer in spanish.

major constitutional changes were adopted in the largest turn out of voters in three years.

virginia barcarse and andy nocon were selected by the girls' league as gardina girl and apple of our eye for november.

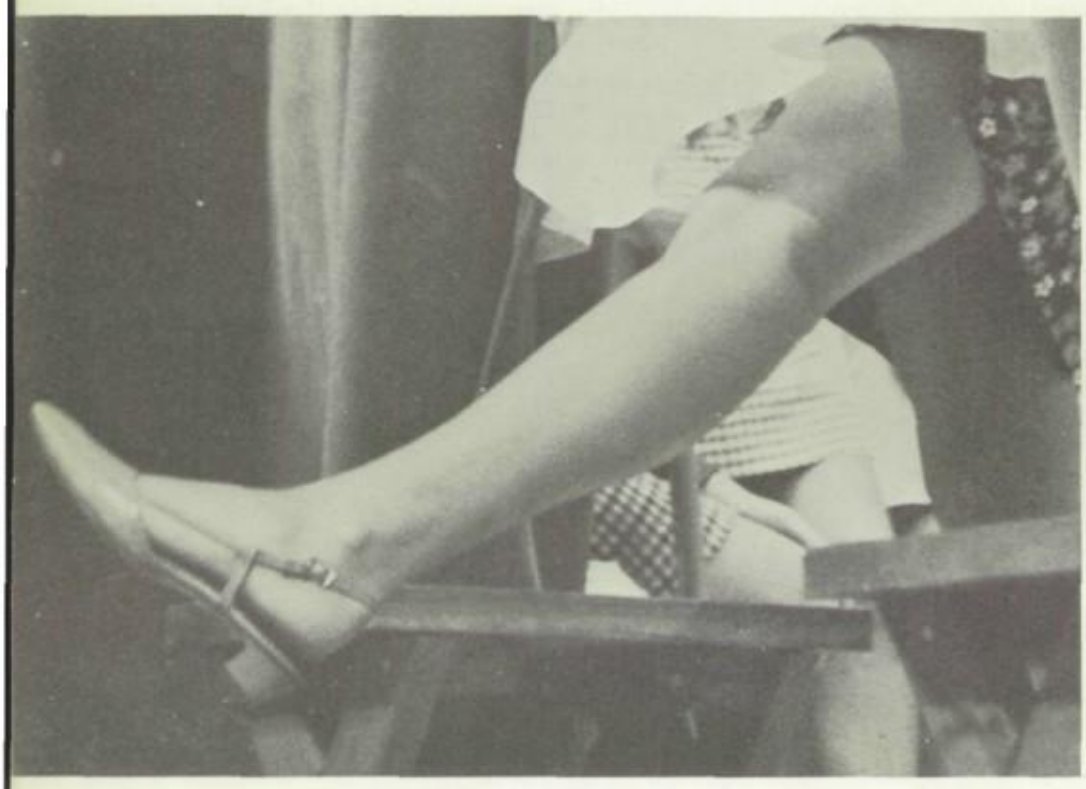
komet first: spirit week!!!



the week of november 18-20 was filled with fun, color, excitement and spirit. officially known as spirit week, it began on monday with a people auction and ended friday evening with the c.i.f. football playoffs against morse. the auction was held during lunch and all volunteers from students to teachers sold their services to the highest bidder.

pie eating contests were held on tuesday with champion pie eaters emerging as willie cross, alvin floyd, and sue michie. komets dressed in maroon and white to show their spirit on wednesday and on thursday dressed-up in honor of the arrival of the amigos. the mr. irresistable contest was held on the last day of spirit week. the object was for the girls not to speak to the boys with penalty of forfeiting a mr. irresistible card. several people noticed it was distinctly quieter in the halls that day. mr. irresistible, jesse tengco, was announced friday evening at the football game.

i saludos! i saludos! i saludos! i los amigos! the sky was clear, the air was warm and nearly half the student body was congregated on kearny's front lawn, excitedly awaiting the arrival of our long expected 'amigos'. the program, entitled "operation: amigo", was sponsored by kearny high school in conjunction with the san diego union and evening tribune. the goal of "operation: amigo" was, as the title suggests, one of friendship and kearny may boast a complete success. the warm promotion of understanding and comradeship proved that the students of latin american countries and those of the united states could unite as partners under the single bond of humanity. the amigos arrived at kearny november 21, after a journey of nearly 7,000 miles from lima and chimbote, peru. the host students, each one selected carefully through letters of application, met the peruvians as they arrived on the bus from the airport. the spark of friendship that began there ignited the fire of understanding that was to follow and remain long after the peruvians left for home again. there was a total of twenty amigos, including a 23 year old chaperone, and each one has a separate family with which he stayed. during their twenty day visitation period, the amigos were busy with many activities. they all witnessed our c.i.f. football game and a track meet, visited the san diego zoo, toured mesa college and the u.s.s. halsey. they saw the opening performance of "the fantastics" and also attended circle arts theater for the play "she loves me". the most awaited activity was an excursion to disneyland, perhaps the most talked about amusement park on earth. besides this, there were parties almost nightly. the students of kearny learned much about the peruvian way of life. so many of the countries customs were revealed, such as the relationship between parent and child, the simple habits of south americans, the intricate education system, and dating customs. constantly faced with a multitude of questions, each amigo remained patient and eager to offer the requested information. we can only hope that the amigos learned as much about our way of life as we did theirs. the spirit of kearny high dipped to a record low on december 9, as the amigos left their newly-made friends to return home. the day wasn't nearly so sunny and the crowds shuffled sadly between classes, many with tears in their eyes. but what was gained from the amigo experience is never to be taken away from each individual student who took the time to participate in the program and join hands with his brothers of peru.

the stage is a wooden platform, the scenery, a fragile cardboard moon, there is a boy, a girl, two fathers, and a wall. this seems to be very little, but it is "the fantasticks." this year, kearny's drama director, mr. winans, presented "the fantasticks" as kearny's first musical in many years. "the fantasticks" demands much ensemble playing from the actors because the cast consists of only eight characters. ann bakich and tom shaver showed the tenderness, joy, and sorrow in their roles of the two lovers. forrest buckman skillfully brought off his portrayal of the worldly el gallo. al whipple, guy qvuistgaard, jeff o'leary, and mike shaw, playing the comic roles kept us laughing the whole night. louise newberry as the mute did a beautiful pantomine, of el gallo's speech on spring. to all who saw "the fantasticks," the only comment that could be made was "fantastic!!!"

kearny senior high school: the american scene yesterday and today october 25th marked the most important day in the lives of kearny's inhabitants. homecoming 1968 was underway and the big game against the university dons would decide the number one football team in the west.

the excitement of the day continued to build as the afternoon pep rally began. colorful floats marked with originality paraded in front of the judges, as the floats were considered for first place. anticipation continued to grow as cries of "we're number one" and "c.i.f. for k.h.s." thundered. a change in the homecoming program was made as the queen was announced before the game that night. seniors lupe enriquez, cindy fincher, and marcia richards walked slowly across taylor field, each wondering if she would be honored as homecoming queen of 1968.

the final tabulation was made and as the rally came to a close, a'cappella choir was awarded the trophy for the first place float, depicting san diego's 200th anniversary. as quickly as the bleachers filled, they emptied, and taylor field became suddenly silent. the memories remain there however, imprinted for all alumni to see.

aztec stadium was the site of the homecoming game, again, the homecoming court paraded across a field. the only difference being, that lovely marcia richards, was crowned homecoming queen 1968. no truer voice could be heard that night than that of komets yelling, "we're from kearny high school and we couldn't be prouder," as the number one football team secured that title with a 13-12 victory over university.

pretty, vivacious, marcia richards, a native texan, has worked for the benefit of kearny since her sophomore year. marcia last year served as asb commissioner of cultural affairs.

lupe's charming personality and bubbling spirit has been an inspiration to her fellow students. lupe, a native san diegan, is known around campus for her warm congeniality.

also vying for the title of 1968 homecoming queen was lively cindy fincher. this year cindy has concentrated her efforts on girls' league and c.s.f.

december . . . the fantasticks, the amigos, and christmas the events of december began with the outstanding performance of the fantastick's, by kearny's drama department. on december 9th, operation amigo came to a close, with the departure of 20 peruvian students. the three-week program helped to promote better understanding and a greater appreciation of the people of peru.

the girls' choir presented their annual christmas program, in a winter setting, with the girls gathered about a piano. december also marked the beginning of the 1968-1969 basketball season.

this year kearny's a.s.b. ball was held at the masonic temple. there theme for the ball was winter wonderland. everyone who attended agreed that the ball was a great success. before christmas vacation a christmas pageant was presented through the efforts of kearny's students. the christmas play centered on a meaningful plot and all who viewed it were moved its timely message. the acappella choir, under mr. stollsteimer, sang many songs.

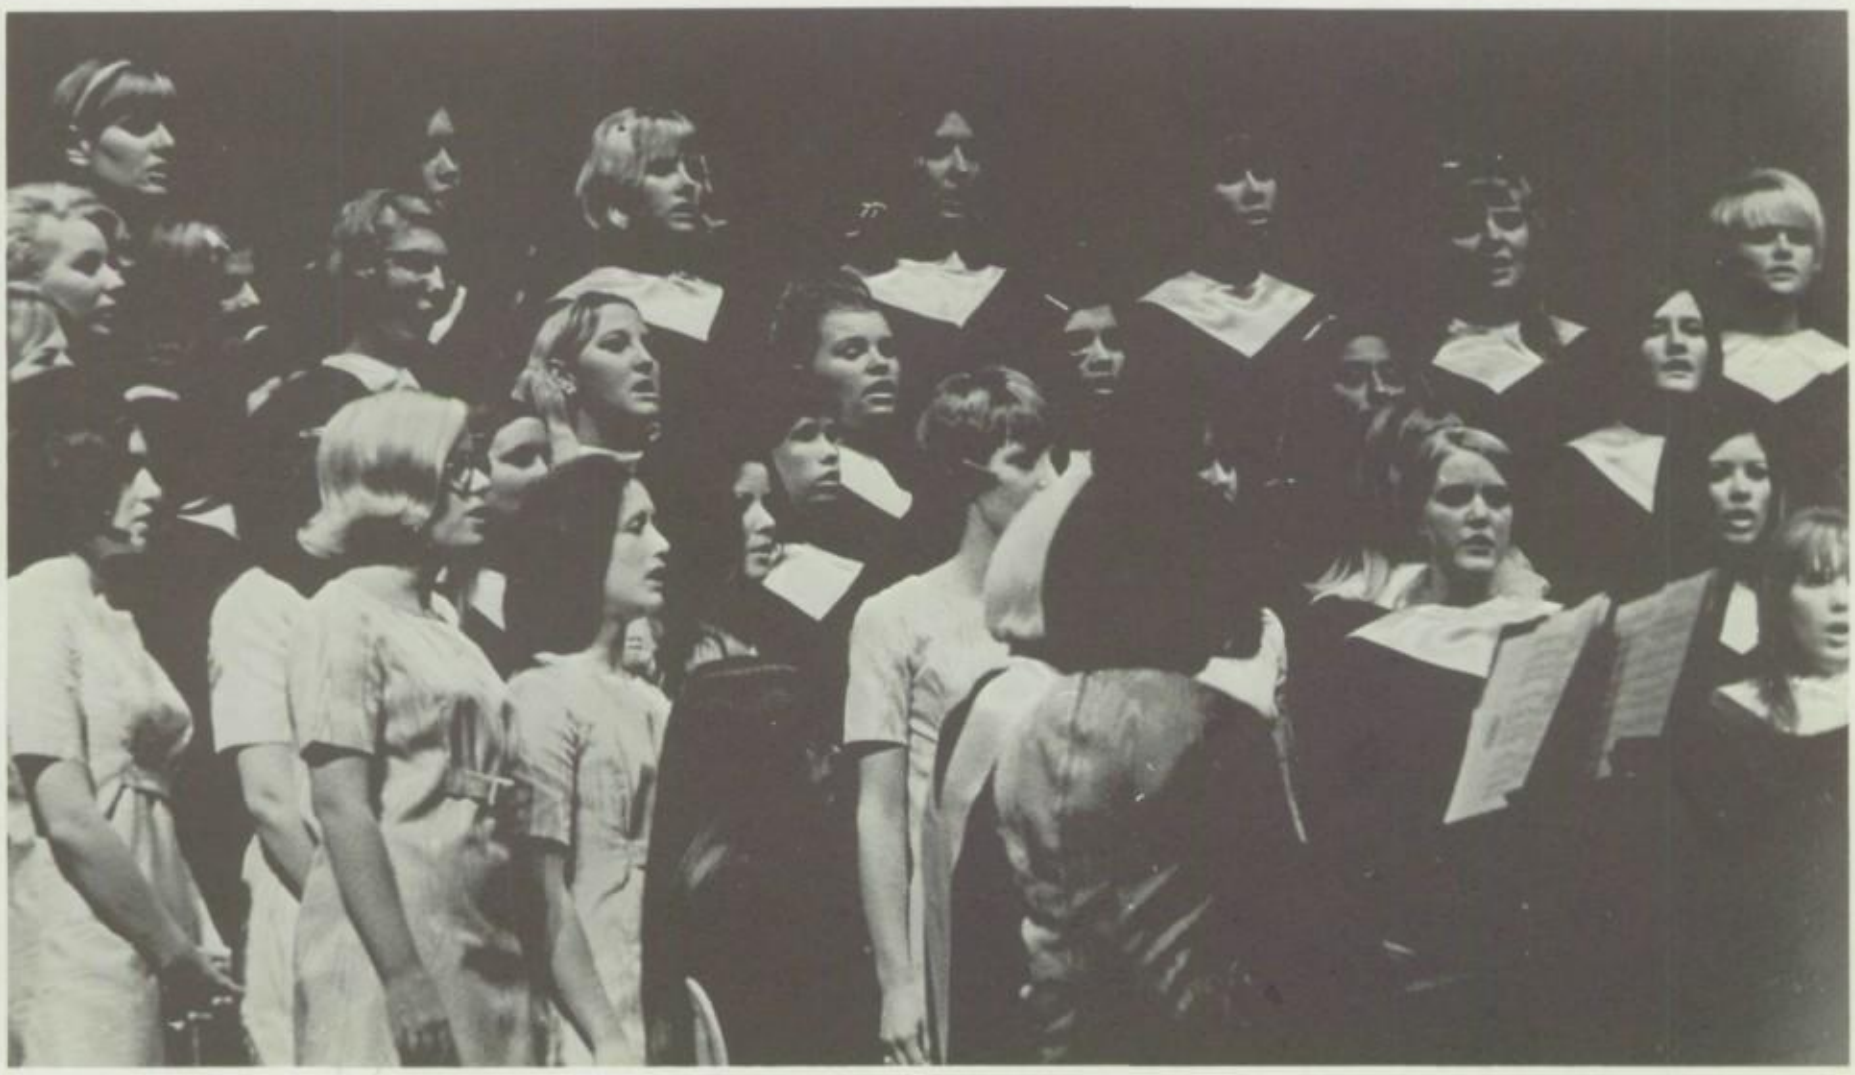
this scene from the play in the christmas pageant shows a court consisting of guy qvistgaard, barbara estrada, claire cde baca, willie king, charlene chevaleir and mike shaw.



the kearny high school girls' choir, under the direction of mr. keene stollsteimer, presented an excellent christmas program portraying the christmas story.

it's a new dawn, it's a new day as the calendar peeled off another year, the students at kearny involved themselves with final exams, basketball games and preparations for the coming spring semester. just one week after returning from christmas vacation komets met with the fire disaster in the girls' gym. even so, within a few days the p.e. teachers had the girls dressing again, making use of the section still intact.

january proved to be a rewarding month for kearnys speech team; in the forensics meet held at clairmont high they placed second over all. each individual member of the team received an award for excellence. the fall term ended with report cards on the last day of january.

what is honored in a country will be cultivated there - plato february began the new semester with many activities and holidays. for st. valentines day, girls' league sold valentines to students at a nickel apiece and offered free delivery service. they were sold out after the first day of sale. the girls' league ball was originally scheduled for february 28, but because of the c.i.f. basketball semi-finals planned for the same night, it was postponed a week. making it precede the r.o.t.c. ball by only one day.

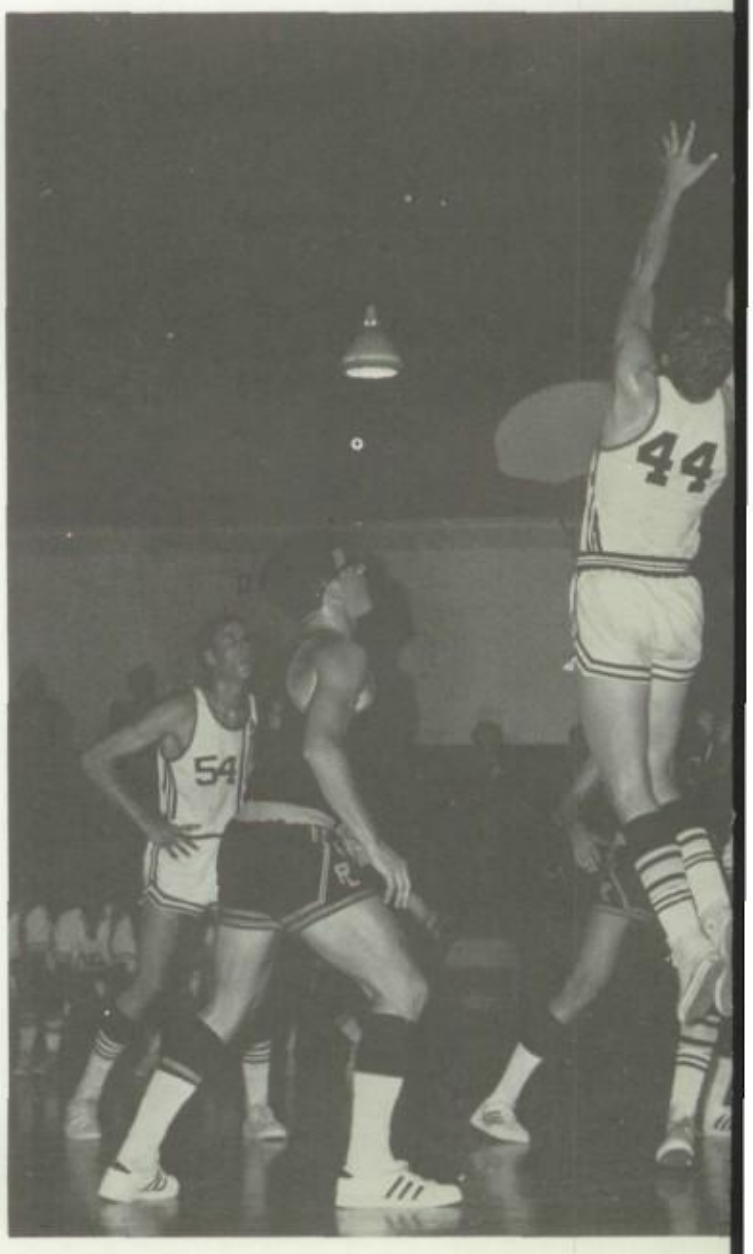
with basketball season almost over and wrestling well under way, the coaches started training sessions for spring sports. the komet 100 and the baseball team held practices regularly and the swimming team started to draft its members.

the drama schedule for february included: the city-wide acting seminar, in which kearny took two out of the three major awards given was held at mesa junior college. the spring drama production, the play, "our town", was presented. the variety show, sponsored by the marquees club started rehearsals for the forth-coming show.

science students exhibited the results of their research at kearny science fair held in the library. nine of the projects were selected for competition in the greater san diego science fair, held later in the spring.



in february basketball season came to a close. above komets cheer for our fantastic basketball team.

"the time is just before dawn" the curtain is open, the stage is set with a few scattered props, the narrator walks on, and the play begins. the play is "our town" by thorton wilder, produced by kearny's drama department and directed by mr. jack winans.

although the stage is minus elaborate settings and props and the costumes are mostly simple all the magic of the theater is there.

the narrator, forrest buckman, starts the story by giving background material on the setting and characters. the drama is centered in a small new hamshire town known as grovers corners. the characters are citizens of the community, particularly members of the gibbs and webb families. the first act brings together michelle erquiaga and guy qvistgaard in leading roles as emily webb and george gibbs, respectively.

the second act takes place three years later at emily and george's wedding. in the third act, "death", the scene is emily's funeral. thus the life cycle within the play was completed. "our town" was performed at student matinee on february 26th. the night performances were held on the 27th and 28th.

this year's varsity song and cheer included debbie miller—head song, jann reynolds, madelynn armstrong, sue terry, sheryl hortman—head cheer, linda frias, andy saunders, and margie gallardo.

the kearny varsity song and cheer participated in creating school spirit at all sports activities, among them football, track, basketball, wrestling and gymnastics.

mrs. kohr sponsored the varsity song and cheer. the group has spent many long hours during last summer learning the various routines. they have been responsible for all the lunch rallies, and tremendous spirit-coordination of the komet's athletic events!

kearny's associated student body council is an elective representative body whose purpose is to work in conjunction with the administration in solving student problems and improving student government. the 1968-1969 asb, lead by dana shelburne, has worked to create more "student power." backed by competent commissioners, dana has worked in trying to secure open campus for kearny. the council has succeeded in revising sections of the school constitution which directly affect the students. it has also faced the problems of night football with both diplomacy and efficiency. the indispensable services and work of the asb have included ticket sales, ribbon sales, making homecoming a memorable event, providing pep rallies, and ensuring the amigos a pleasant stay at khs.

house of representatives establish new constitution

the beginning of this school year saw a unpleasant situation for the house of representatives. they had no activities on the a.s.b. calander for the forthcoming year, and it would seem from the attendance at the meetings, that there was very little, if any, active participation in the meetings. thus, the largest portion of the year has been spent in organization of the club so that next year's house of representatives shall not find themselves in the same predicament. the major accomplishment of the group for this year is that they have been diligently trying to establish a constitution for themselves. they have also been engaged in setting up some activities possibly for the second semester.

hopefully, next year we will have an active house of representatives, including ambitious participating members.

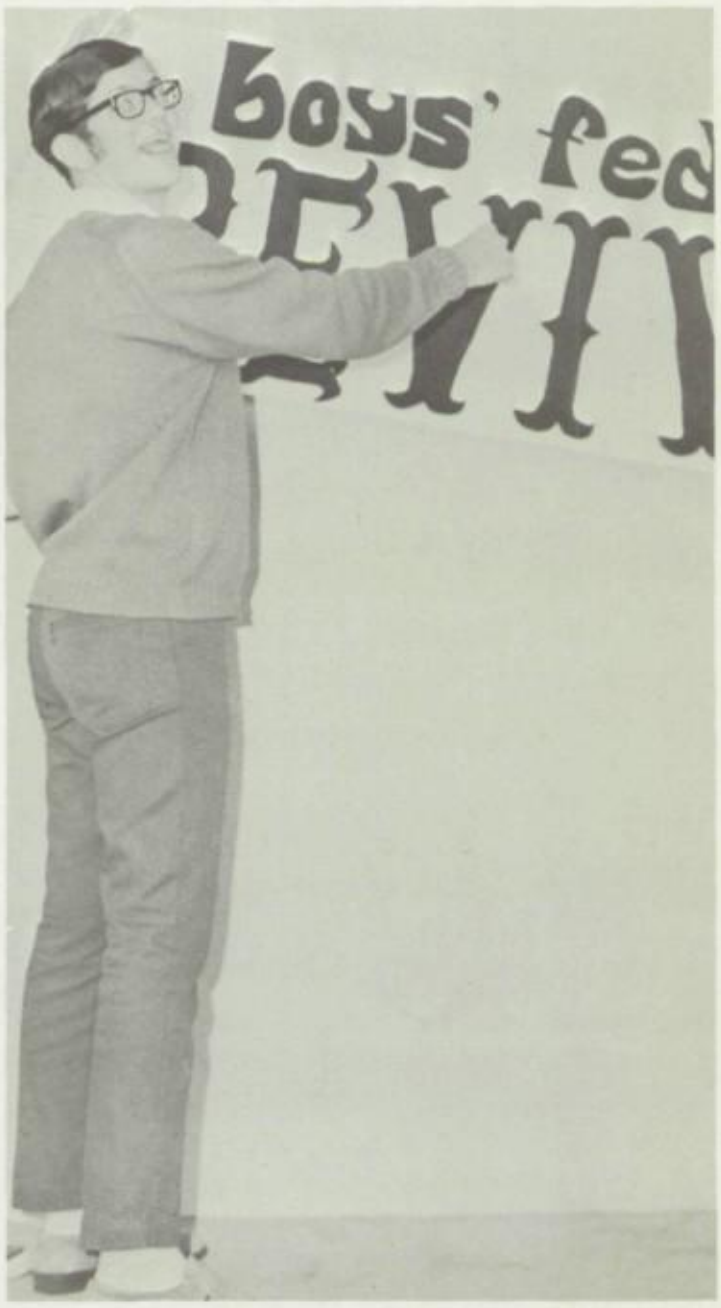
san diego, upi-boy's federation, one of the big three organizational powers at kearny high school (along with the a.s.b. and girls' league), encompass the complete male student faction on the kearny campus. however, last may, after the 67-68 near-idleness, boys' fed suffered the ultimate attack any club can bring upon itself; not one boy was willing to run for boys' fed president. to resolve this situation, this year's a.s.b. council appointed a president and vice-president, who in turn, with the aid of self-recommendation letters, chose this years boy's fed governing board.

the boys' federation revival campaign was certainly a high point in a drab back-to-school january, 1969. now advertising a type of "renaissance" idea, boys' fed is again on the way to prosperity and success as one of kearny high schools' most promising activities.



to bolster the lagging spirit of the boys, john greenwood hangs a sign to advertise the revival.

kay allgire, commissioner of organizations, provided the leadership for interclub council, the organization which co-ordinates club activities on campus.

inter-club council unifies club activities interclub council has done an excellent job of unifying the clubs on campus. the council serves as a medium between the clubs and the a.s.b. council. this year, under the leadership of kay allgire, commissioner of organizations, the council has done a great job of bringing the clubs'requests to a fast-moving a.s.b. this has helped a great deal in putting new ideas in the student government and in initiating new activities for the student body. overall the council was a great success.

the key club officers elected to lead the club through the '68-'69 school year were dana shelburne, al whipple, alvin floyd, and rick laws.

key club campaigns against smoking dana shelburne led key club through one of the greatest years in key club history.

led by dana shelburne, president, and mr. rindal, faculty sponsor, the kearny key club spent the year striving to make worthwhile contributions to school and community. this years' activities included a float in the homecoming parade, their annual banquets, a trophy case clean-up, and many other appreciated services. perhaps one of the most appreciated services was their smoking project which was initiated last year. under mr. lepore's and mr. rindal's supervision, key clubbers visited elementary schools all over the city to discuss the evils of smoking with the sixth graders. the club divided into groups with three and four boys in each. each group departed for a different school and tried to educate the sixth graders. this year the fame of the project spread and the boys talked to sixth grade students at many more elementary schools and also talked to the key clubs at hoover and clairemont high schools.

countless hours after school, stiff competitors, the joy of winning, the pain of losing, and the exhaustion of a varsity meet have all been experienced by the handful of girls who are privileged to wear the large white "k" on the traditional lettergirl sweater. any girl with the ambition to become a lettergirl must first, want to live in the girls' gym, second, earn 250 points from services, competitive or intramural sports, and practicing after school, and third, varsity in at least one of the sports offered such as tennis, rifle, volleyball, gymnastics, badminton, or track. along with trying to improve their own skills and competing against other schools, the lettergirls help sponsor many girls' athletic activities and play a big part in the operation of the girls' athletic association. with the aid and advice of mrs. kohr, this year's lettergirls have been able to aid the g.a.a. in its many projects such as sales, the picnic, the welcoming party and the banquet.

girls' athletic association promotes increased skill in all-around sports

the girls' athletic association or g.a.a. is one of the most popular clubs with girls, on campus, and is sponsored by the girls' physical education department. the members participate in various varsity sport activities such as tennis, track, volleyball, rifle, gymnastics, and badminton. other sports offered are those not considered varsity such as modern dance, hockey, softball, and powder puff football. through active participation in the organization, girls can become lettergirls. under the head direction of mrs. cole and mrs. kohr, the g.a.a. has helped improve participation in girls' sports and helped sponsor many activities and projects for potential lettergirls.

this year, the a.f.s., officially known as the american field service, has become one of the most active clubs on campus. although it got off to a slow start this year, the a.f.s., under the direction of president andy saunders, has forged ahead with its annual dinner in may, a surprise birthday party for exchange student leonora agyarko and plans for a donkey basketball game later this year. other officers include: patsy gavett-secretary, and teri koons-treasurer.

this year's sponsor for the american field service, is a newcomer on campus, mrs. klein, who holds the meetings in b-5 every other tuesday. in previous years the organization has sponsored students from such countries as chile, france, sweden, iraq, and argentina. last year senior judy edgar went to chile as an american abroad. a.f.s. has truly worked this year to promote world understanding.

leonora agyarko brightens kearny campus with her charm, congeniality and knowledge

this year's american field service student for kearny was leonora agyarko. leonora came to us from ghana where they have fifteen years of education before entering college. this is only the second year that ghana, as a country, has participated in the student exchange program. although, leonora is many miles away from her home country, she fits perfectly into the daily life of the many students that attend kearny. active as a member of the senior class council, leonora is an honorary member of girls' league council and of course with her host student, cathie haley. leonora has been a definite asset to kearny and we wish her the warmest good-bye.

the marquees, kearny's drama club, have been extremely active this year. they have not only presented three plays and the annual talent show, but they have overcome unusual difficulties. limited by the administration to lunchtime performances, the club refused to do any performing at all. it would have been impossible for them to give the type of performance they are capable of within the fifty minute lunch hour. this resulted in only nighttime presentations of the fantastiks, the first play presented by the drama department this year. the protests of the entire school, including an editorial in the khs news, proved successful when our town was performed during seventh and eighth periods. these reactions showed the student body's appreciation of the marquees and mr. winans.

mr. harter's math team has been very active this year. participating in the annual tournaments, these students have spent a great deal of time in research and study. the most important tournaments of the year are held at occidental and state colleges. in 1956 the first occidental tournament was held. the following year mr. harter took the first team there to participate in the competition. we were the only high school from san diego. soon after the start of the tournaments at occidental, state college began holding tournaments which our team also visited. to prepare for these tests, students must research a topic and present a five minute talk before the judges on it. this is known as a chalk talk. another test, the leap frog relay, requires that upon finishing his test, a student must correct his partner's. the last test is a rapid calculation test, known as the mad hatters a & b.

quill and scroll, the international honorary society for high school journalists, was founded on april 10, 1926, by a group of professors at the university of iowa. since then, quill and scroll has established chapters in over 7500 high schools and other institutions all over the world.

kearny's chapter is named after the late local author, max miller. three requirements must be met for membership in the chapter: the candidate must be either a junior or senior; he must be in the upper third of his class; and he must have done distinguished work in some phase of journalism, on either a yearbook, newspaper, or literary magazine.

since 1946 the max miller chapter has annually published scribbler's frolic, kearny's literary magazine. this magazine contains the best work done in the fields of art, essays, short stories, and poetry by kearny students during the year. the chapter also prepared the student handbook issued to each student at the start of his sophomore year at kearny.

at the end of the year, the club holds a banquet at which members who have distinguished themselves on the staff of the magazine during the year are honored. through working on the magazine members gain valuable experience in journalism.

mrs. flectcher, a native of germany is chiefly responsible for the club's success. belonging to several german-american societies herself, she has provided the members with many opportunities to learn about the people of germany. their activities have included a trip to little bavaria, a german restaurant, and a visit to the german exhibit at the community concourse for san diego's 200th anniversary.

hard work and practice results in drill success this year's drill colonel was junior, linda sage. during all performances, linda has shown her influence and leadership to onlookers and the other girls of the drill unit. her job has made her the top and most important girl in the corps.

this year's kearny high k-ettes have thus far been the best ever. with various dance routines, precisions, and formations to popular, sparkling numbers, this drill unit has shown successful entertainment to the halftime spectators. their performances have included such routines and steps as a hula dance, forming a surfer, a trolley car, other precisions and steps, and to a spectacular homecoming crowd, in the form of a big balloon, performed to the well-known tune "up, up, and away." there have been numerous themes for home game performances and each one has caught the eye of many, with subjects ranging from a salute to the united states to the c.i.f. theme at the november 22 game. also, other than performing at home games, the girls took part in the al bahr shrine game that was held in the san diego sports stadium in october. for their many efforts and achievements, students, as well as parents and teachers applaud the fifty-six girls who begin each morning of every school day learning and constantly practicing new routines and steps for a final showing before an interested football audience.

miss douglas and mrs. mc gregor, the two sponsors of k-ettes have continuously, for the past four years, turned up a top-notched drill unit. their helpful advice and decisions for which girls are to be part of the drill team has contributed to the success of kearny's k-ettes this and every year.

holding the position of drill major, this year, has been spirited shirley young. what more could the sponsors of the drill team ask for, but a hard working, devoted officer to help linda keep the other girls alert, orderly, and disciplined? other than giving commands, shirley has been the main person behind the write-ups for the half-time scripts that the team performs.

organization is dependent upon officers kearny high school is one of the few remaining schools in the city maintaining an rotc, and we are proud of it. the objectives of rotc are broad and numerous, but in a capsule there are four major areas that the rotc undertakes to develop: 1) the rotc makes a habit of military orderliness and precision, 2) the rotc instills in each member a sense of pride and patriotism available nowhere else on campus, 3) the rotc promotes discipline, firm discipline, thereby encouraging each member to accept and respect the authority of a higher rank, 4) the rotc trains each student in the fundamental basics of military life, preparing him to be a beneficial and competent member of the united states armed forces. since 1919 when the rotc program began, it has accomplished all of these aims.

earlier this year, kearny's outstanding rifle team was invited to the ucla invitational where they took first place in statewide rifle competitions.

throughout the year there are various competitions held interscholastically to judge the best drilled squads and the best drilled platoons. obviously, the rotc agenda is full the year around.

rotc queen—honorary captain madelynn armstrong beautiful madelynn armstrong was selected as rotc queen for 1969. madelynn is a songleader this year as well as a member of girls' choir. her feminine poise and sweet personality are well-deserving of such an honorable position. madelynn is truly a queen.

march 8th marked the night of the rotc ball at which queen madelynn and her beautiful court reigned. held at the masonic temple, this formal ball is an annual, citywide activity.

also in march was federal inspection day when representatives of the federal government came to inspect and rate the rotc at our school. later on, in may, the rotc was involved in the citywide "field day" where the rotc units from all schools engaged in every competitive field.

government process is examined

mr. janc—sponsor

the students for political action club, during the year, has helped to promote student interest in kearny's government. the government process is examined so the students know how to bring about the necessary changes. the spa has given candidates support in elections and support for asb constitution changes. the students for political action has also brought many interesting speakers to kearny from different backgrounds to talk on a variety of subjects. mr. janc is the sponsor of the students for political action club.

a christmas concert in december, a city festival in april the girls' choir is a select singing group that is in its 6th year. under the direction of mr. keene stollsteimer many fine programs were presented, there was a christmas concert last december, a city festival in april, and an entertaining spring concert on may 27.

besides these school activities the choralettes performed at a local convalescent home. in november the members of the girls' choir conducted a successful candy sale, the money going to the choir's budget for the year. a new division of the group was formed this year, a quartet, the new group was composed of bea saracini, cathy steidl, dixie benich, and teri koons.

the officers of the choir this past year were mary howard, president, kathy gipson, vice president, judy johnson, secretary, and madelyn armstrong, treasurer. mr. stollsteimer has been conducting kearny students for 8 years. there were 68 girls under his direction.

. . . we went on without him every choir seems to have a personality all its own. the large (80 member) 1968-1969 choir proved to the "most hard-working." it had to overcome obstacles caused by its large size and the lack of a permanent director. mr. zaloudek had to enter the hospital early in the year and his 24th choir was forced to go on without him. the officers took on an unusual amount of responsibility through weeks of come-and-go substitutes. as the time of z's absence stretched on, each choir member began to feel the need for self-discipline and diligence. they banded together and worked for a number of christmas assemblies, participated in the new and successful negro history program and put together an effective progran for memorial day. ending their year with the traditional festival the 1968-1969 a'cappella choir could truly be proud of their year's work for the school and community.

kearny high school's marching band "sock it to em" kearny's marching band for 1968-1969 was very successful whenever it played. under mr. mc crea's guidance, the band grew to be an important part of many activities at kearny and enriched the community music-wise. the band added a great deal of splendor to half-times at football games. the spectators at the football games watched intently as the band members' many hours of work took shape on the field and the musicians marched in formation. all-in-all, mr. mc crea's direction created a band that surpassed the normal high school bands in all aspects. we applaud all the people who helped to make our band great!

pep band rocks kearny swings many a pep rally was brightened by the sounds of "up, up, and away" coming from the pep band. their spirit was displayed at all the pep rallies and they supplemented the cheering with renditions of many current songs. most all football and basketball fans thrilled to their music at the games. their enthusiasm for each new song was conveyed to the audience and promoted more and more kearny spirit. with each football game it became more apparent to everyone that a large part, in fact an inseparable part, of kearny spirit was due to the pep band.

orchestra provides culture in music for students the members of our orchestra learned that a love of music and a sincere willingness to learn are the most important aspects of musicianship. they spent many hours acquiring invaluable training in theory and technique, besides the actual playing of their instruments. under mr. mc crea's direction their performances were great successes. each member blended in to create a sound that was not only unified, but pleasant to the ear. every person who participated deserves a trophy for his or her efforts. this year's orchestra has done an excellent job in representing kearny throughout our school and community.

the rotary interact students of kearny, chartered last year, is a relatively new organization on campus. it is unique in that it is a combination of the explorer and interact programs. this combination is a new experiment including the merits, opportunities, and goals of rotary international and the boy scouts of america. the purpose of this club, as stated in its constitution, is to provide opportunity for young men to work together in a world fellowship dedicated to service and international understanding. with this purpose in mind, the group has participated in several service projects including vietman gift-pac work, counseling cub scouts, and activities with project. in conjunction with explorer goals, the members have become more prepared for life through career investigations ranging from marine biology to law enforcement to the foreign service. the career studies have included both lectures and field trips. the sponsor is mr. albright. arthur pontau is the president.

st. augustine saints 20

kearny opened the 1968 season on september 20th against a strong st. augustine team. the komet offense exhibited a strong passing attack in the first half as junior quarterback gene watkins hooked up with halfback dennis odom on a 12 yard screen pass and then found flanker ed evilsizor in the corner of the end zone with a 21 yard strike. the komets went to the locker room at the half leading 13-7. however the second half belonged to the saints as they scored two second half touchdowns to claim their first victory of the season by defeating the komets 20-13.

in the komet's second non-league game, they used a well balanced running and passing attack to score an impressive victory over the matadores. the komets scored in the first period on an end sweep by dennis odom. after the first quarter the ball game belonged to kearny. gene watkins, joe mack, and john braxton each scored on short runs and dana ludvigson added 3 extra points. the defense held the matadores to a net of less than 50 yards in a great defensive effort.

the komet eleven continued their drive toward the western league championship by scoring a convincing victory over the warhawks. the scoring began in the first period as dennis odom captured a gene watkins pass and ran it into the endzone. joe mack produced the second tally on a two yard plunge. the final touchdown came with two minutes left to play on a twenty-four yard pass to ed evilsizor. the komet defense was again outstanding as they held the 'hawks to one touchdown.

the komets rolled to their second straight victory by defeating the chiefs at mesa college. the komet eleven scored three times in the first half. on the second offensive play of the game dennis odom ran seventy yards around left end for the first tally. quarterback gene watkins scored himself on a four yard run then on the last play of the half passed to ed evilsizor in the end zone for six more points. the only score in the second half came on a twenty-eight yard pass again to evilsizor. the komet defense shut out the opposition for the second time in a row as the komets advanced toward the c.i.f. championship.

as the komets continued their advance toward the western league championship, their next victims were the hoover cardinals. the komets entered the game as twenty-one point favorites. however the 'cards exhibited a surprisingly well organized defense in holding the defending league champs to thriteen points. after scoring a touchdown in the first period, the komet gridders held a slim lead until dennis odom scored on a fifty-eight yard punt return to put the game on ice. at the end of five games, the komet defense led the league in the fewest points allowed.

university dons	12

as kearny's homecoming game approached, there was a feeling of anticipation. university ranked number one and kearny ranked number four on the evening tribune's "top ten." this game in all likelihood would decide the western league championship. as the first half ended it appeared that university would walk away with the game. however, at half time coach birt slater fired up the offense and the second half belonged to the komets. the watkin's led offense rambled seventy-one yards in six plays ending with a forty-eight yard scoring pass to ed evilsizor. the kick missed and the score was dons twelve and komets six. in the final quarter, evilsizor again scored after capturing a watkins aerial to tie the score twelve-twelve. dana ludvigson's kick through the uprights put the komets in the lead. university threatened twice but key interceptions by dwight mc donald and ed evilsizor stopped the drives and assured the komets a well earned victory.

la jolla vikings	7

as the kearny-la jolla game approached, the western league was in an uproar. la jolla (previously unbeaten) had been given 3 league losses for using a player that did not live in the district. despite this blow, la jolla provided an excellent test for the komet defense. the scoring began in the first quarter as quarterback gene watkins lead a drive down to the one yard line then capped the drive as he sneaked into the endzone. as the game resumed in the second half, the komet offense again struck as halfback dennis odom carried the ball on an 84 yard romp into the endzone. the viking defense stiffened up and the komets were unable to score again until the fourth quarter when ed evilsizor caught a watkins pass for another six-pointer. la jolla scored in the fourth quarter but it was in vain as the komets rolled up their sixth straight win.

kearny will slaughter mission bay! this was the general opinion on campus as the friday night game approached. however there were a few people who did not feel so confident. one of these was kearny coach birt slater. as the game commenced his fears were realized. the buckaneers tallied first but the vital extra point was blocked. in the second quarter it looked as if the komet offense was back on track as they rambled down the field and scored as joe mack carried the ball over. the extra point was made and the score stood at 7 to 6 as the half ended. again in the second half, mission bay scored before the komets could mount an effective attack. however the men in maroon and white rallied with 5 minutes left in the game to score the tying points on a pass that found wingback ed evilsizor in the endzone. dana ludvigson kicked the game winning point which assured the komets at least a tie in the western league.

point loma pointers 7

neither rain, nor snow, nor sleet, nor point loma could stop the kearny komets from winning the western league championship. the ball was wet, the footing was unsure and the rains came down a steady pace. despite this, kearny scored first on a pass from gene watkins to ed evilsizor from 12 yards out. the pointers came right back on a 48 yard drive to make the score 7-6. the komets came alive again in the late stages pushing across a score on a 2 yard plunge. a few minutes later, watkins romped with a keeper covering 25 yards for the td. watkins hit evilsizor with a 48 yard pass for a tally with just minutes left in the game to close out the scoring in what for three quarters had been a squeaker.

kearny komets 19
morse tigers 20

kearny met morse in the foggy confines of azetec stadium in the c.i.f. semi-final game. this game paired the winners of the western league and the champs of the eastern league. the easterners scored in the first period but missed the extra point. near the end of the first period the komets scored twice on passes of 43 and 20 yards to ed evilsizor. morse also managed a t.d. and with the point led 13-12 at the hald way mark. the komets gained the advantage in the third period on a 46 yard bomb to evilsizor. the conversion was good and the komets led 19-13. the "good guys" held this lead until the last minute when the tigers picked up a loose ball and carried it to the komet 10 yard line. on the next play the tigers passed to mike hox in the endzone to tie the score. the komets hopes for a c.i.f. title disappeared into the fog as the kick for the point sailed through the crossbar and into the emptiness that was defeat.

J.V. football scores first this year j.v. football, under the help of coaches griffith and shepard, enjoyed the best season in memory of the j.v. team. under the guidance of these two fine coaches, the team finished with an 8-1 record for the season and the western league championship. with this outstanding group coming up to fill the vacancies left by departing seniors, next year's varsity team should be a great one. to the team and coaches go our deepest appreciation for a fine effort and a successful season.

(low score wins)

5,000-meter record was set at u.c.s.d. by the komets. an important contributing factor to the victory was coach cervany's fine supervision and coaching assistance. during the past three years that cervany has been with kearny high school, he has always been on the best of terms with everyone around him. though, there is much hope for the next season to be as victorious as the last, coach cervany will probably not be with kearny next year. at the end of the last cross country season he transferred to bell junior high because of over-exertion. cervany's replacement will be richard e. smith.

a prosperous season for cross country the 1968-69 cross country season has proven itself to be a very prosperous season for the komets. under the supervision of coach cervany, the team soared to second place in the c.i.f. finals with seven wins and only one loss.

one man who helped make this victory possible was charles ledbetter. aside from being the first individual champion in cross country c.i.f., charles has been awarded for his running ability at the a.a.u. 5000-meter championship and was first man of the brietbart cross country team. charles was undefeated in western league and his only two losses were at mount sac and aztec invitationals. some of his record holdings include the santana c.i.f. course record, kearny's cross country records, and the (cont. next page) the varsity record set the example of seven wins and only one loss for their juniors to follow, and follow they did. under the supervision of coach jim cervany, junior varsity, like varsity, ended the season in second place c.i.f. standards.

with such outstanding runners as darnell, conners, robinson, smith, lauchs, and shaw, the result should be superb.

sophomore cross country is a newer idea. the team is designed for any sophomore boy who is interested in running cross country and is willing to try. they run along, with the varsity and junior varsity, on the average of ten miles per day. it is hoped that sophomore cross country will develop an even better varsity cross country.

komet gymnasts perform feats of strength gymnastics is one of the oldest sports in the world today, dating back to ancient greece. this year the komet's gymnastic team sustained nine men, five of them returning lettermen, for an excellent year of demonstrated skill. seniors, andy saunders and scott jones lead the team to second place in the watermen memorial tournament and fourth place in western league standings. basically a junior team, the komets will offer un-challenged competition in the future.

komet wrestlers put forth great effort wrestling is one of the oldest of all sports and well-known for this fact. though wrestling may not receive as much recognition as it should, it is still very much a part of the high school athletic program.

kearny's season record was rather depressing at times. however, the team still kept up the effort. the record showed kearny komets to have four wins and seven losses, but everyone is sure that next year promises to be much better for kearny wrestlers. voted most valuable player was mark ray.

komets shoot way to second place tie head coach wayne colborne, in his third year at kearny, continued to use a most effective fast-break offense. with a small but extremely fast team, kearny won most of its games by simply outrunning its opponents. running and shooting were the main strong points for the year. a fine zone defense also contributed by stopping the opponents offense.

next year should be a good one for coach colborne and kearny as bob kostlan, larry watters, terry thompson, scott hitchcock, and romeo convento return to continue the komet tradition of winning.

coach colborne is not always arguing with the referees as these pictures might imply. however, on the basketball court, he rarely smiles. he thinks about nothing but basketball during the game. he knows what it is like to be out there playing as he attended drake university on a basketball scholarship. coach colborne is an excellent coach and a fine person who did a great job this year to boost our team to a second place tie in the western league standings.

bruce's jumpshot surprises a don. right: steve scott exhibits perfect rebounding form.

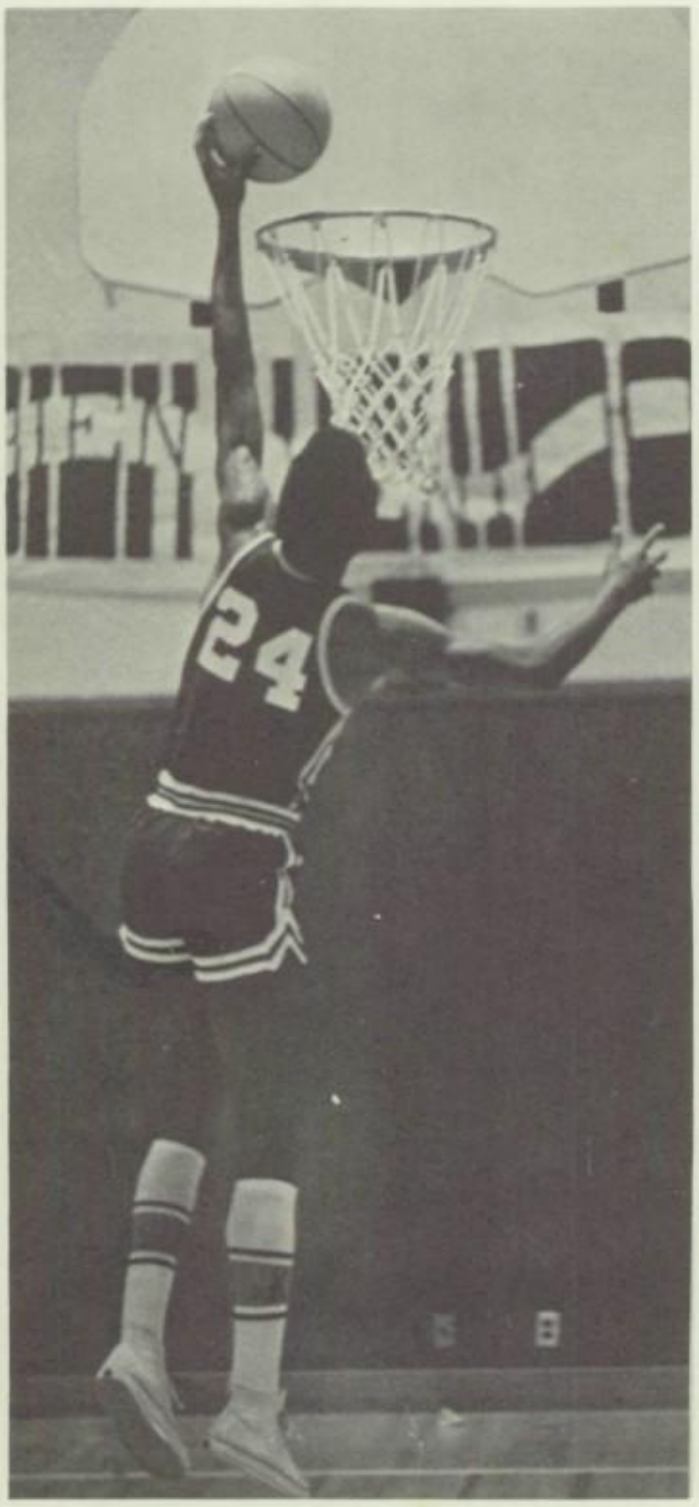
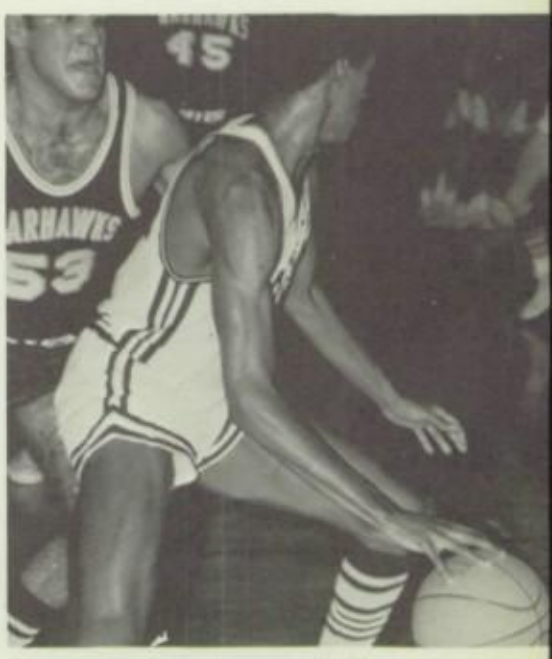
careful! dunking is illegal.

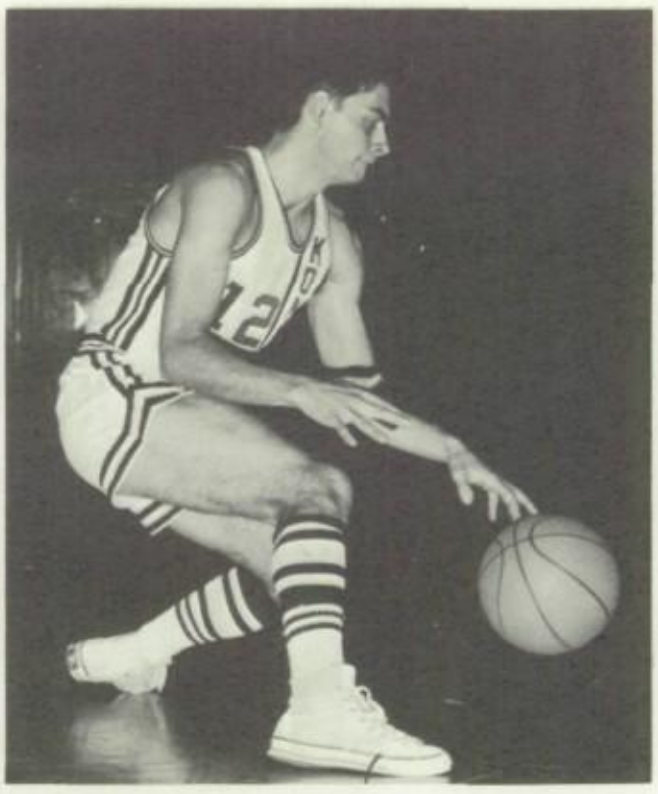


wilburn drives around a warhawk opponent. below: steve scott takes a jump shot from the corner.



kearny's big men, wilburn strong, bruce sauer, and steve scott did indeed do a big job. although they were 2 inches shorter than most of their opponents, they continually out-rebounded them. wilburn and steve at forward provided excellent outside shooting, while bruce used a most effective inside shot to score. all three did a superior job of rebounding and starting the fast break.

larry likes to handle the ball, and does it well.



dan mcdonald proved to be the best ball handler.

beside the essential element, speed, lee tyler, larry waters, and albie quisumbing also utilized some excellent shooting. lee was the team leader in assists and the leading scorer of the guards. larry and albie split the court time and did a fine job. both were excellent ball handlers and great team men.

danny mcdonald, terry thompson, and sam bolden added outstanding bench strength to a team blessed with an abundance of able guards.

during the last two seasons, kearny's j.v. basketball has improved greatly last year, the scores showed us fourteen wins and five losses. this year was even better with the scores showing notable improvement.

a great asset to the team was the fine supervision of coach short and the great talent and effort of each member of the junior varsity basketball team.

mostly people

it's mostly people who make the world happen
steeped with them mornings are ridden like buses
and they strap-
hang their wondrous occasional faces into movies
and mealtimes
and conversation.
new and small
and peculiar people get born every inhale, come and gone like little old men and little old
women who grow up and up and up to cram sideways into all those
grand yesterdays
they learn to believe
in. and it's mostly people who make the others necessary, like to love, to give to, to learn from; and without such a people-pocketed kind of world which has locked us all up in one bright birthday package to open at any whim
of a face, why then,
to be born and get dead would be just one long yawn.
